

Multiscale process nulls reduce the single-timescale ceiling

All families use estimated output memory

De curves show why observed-minus-AR(1) deficit is a multiscale boundary, not direct causality

